Our Mission

We change the way people eat forever

Our Vision

The world's leading, fully integrated foods solution group

Q1 2023 Highlights

We continue to invest in enhancing the customer proposition in meal kits

Our RTE vertical is very early in its lifecycle: Factor US will unlock significant additional capacity in H2

- Limited competition in D2C RTE due to strong defensibility of business model
- Improve RTE customer proposition by following HF's meal kit playbook
- Grow brand awareness and consideration strongly

We delivered 278m meals in Q1 2023, a sequential increase of 13%

- Meals (3)% down y-o-y, driven by y-o-y decline in active customers by c.(5)%, with comparative period still influenced by Omicron effect, as previously flagged
  - However, strong seasonal active customer growth by 1m or 14% q-o-q
  - Both segments contributed to positive sequential growth
- We have maintained consistently high order rates and further expanded meals per order, also in the current normalization period

We have increased Q1 Average Order Value meaningfully year on year

- Group AOV increase of 8.9% in constant currency
- Both segments showed meaningful increase in AOV:

• NA: 9.5% (CC)

Intl: 6.9% (CC)

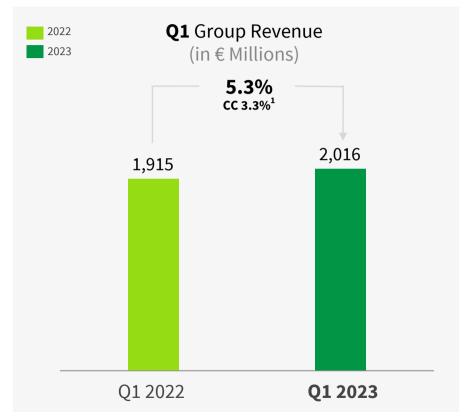

- AOV increase driven primarily by:
  - Higher price per meal
  - More meals per order
  - Further increase in popularity of surcharge offerings and HF Market add-ons

Against a heavily impacted Omicron quarter in 2022, we delivered yet another record net revenue quarter, exceeding €2bn for the first time

- Well diversified revenue streams enabled positive revenue growth of 3%, despite challenging comparative period and soft macro environment
- Q1 NA CC revenue growth of +5.5%
- Q1 Intl CC revenue growth broadly stable with (0.5)%

Q1 procurement expenses are somewhat higher due to inflation and mix effects

- Procurement expenses increased by 1.4pp y-o-y driven by:
  - Continued y-o-y inflationary headwinds
  - Increased contribution of RTE to the mix (meal production is included in procurement for RTE)
  - More meals per order and higher take-up of HF Market add-ons
- While both of the latter two points increase relative procurement expenses, they are accretive to overall contribution margin

We significantly improved fulfillment expenses as % of net revenue by > 2pp y-o-y

 Continued sequential and y-o-y improvement in relative fulfillment expenses

NA:+3.8ppIntl:+0.1pp

- Further structural efficiencies to be realized through
  - Production network maturity and optimization
  - FC technology and automation

We expanded contribution margin in Q1 to 26.3%

- Improvement in Q1 2023 contribution margin primarily driven by fulfillment efficiencies
- Further efficiencies targeted for the rest of 2023, primarily driven by additional production productivity gains

Marketing activity at a seasonal high in Q1, amounting to (20.4)% of revenue

- Front loaded marketing activities drove sequential increase in active customers by 1m at attractive ROI
- Comparative period still impacted by Covid

We delivered a Q1 2023 AEBITDA of €66m

- Overall, decent start of the year, considering strong sequential growth in active customers and successful contribution margin expansion
- Provides a solid basis to deliver on the outlook provided

We delivered a solid cash flow from operations of €112m and maintained our strong balance sheet

- €112m cash flow from operating activities supported by normal seasonal cash inflow from working capital
- Cash outflow from investing activities primarily consists of:
  - €(95.1)m capex
  - €(34.5)m final acquisition earn-out payment to former Factor shareholders
- Strong cash position at €467.2m; continued strong, largely unlevered balance sheet
- Capex profile somewhat front-end loaded during the year, as previously flagged

New segment reporting and AGM reminders

New Segment Reporting

- As of Jan 1, HFG's Canadian business has been brought under our US management reporting structure
- It has therefore moved from being previously included in the Intl segment to now being part of our North America segment
- Data for the comparative Q1 2022 period has been adjusted accordingly to enable like-for-like comparability
